Cloud Migration

- We start with basic migration plan If you have already been through the process of proof of concept.
- With a deep understanding of the cloud solution, we architect your cloud solution to leverage the power of cloud resources to solve business problems
- Our extensive pre-migration checks, help in smooth transition and we continue to support your decision to migrate by offering post migration solution.
- Our DevOps team will help you setup and manage your DevOps needs post-migration .

Case Study

A large provider of SaaS solutions that enable portfolio managers, project leads, and program directors to maximize operational efficiency and productivity.

The company's products are designed to simplify business processes and automate workflows that would otherwise take more time and effort. They recently ran into an IT challenge when its data centre start growing and application needs high performance for only a certain period of time.

The Challenge

They were hosting workloads in a traditional data center with a combination of bare metal servers and Virtual Machines when it learned of the need to switch over to Cloud.

However, given the scope of the endeavor and lack of resources with Azure made them difficult to do the migration. Also they needed a certified and well reputed team to overview this migration to avoid customer service interruption.

Solution

Mobifly has guided similar enterprises through similar migration journeys and our engineering team took the lead on the architecture design work and migration execution and their application was migrated to Azure seamlessly.

Our cloud experts also examined their Storage and Database tiers, as well as made suggestions related to backup and disaster recovery.

Furthermore, Mobifly conducted a formal Azure Well-Architected review to ensure the client's new infrastructure met the quality standards put forth by Azure, as well as handed over a set of guidance to consider for managing.

Cloud Cost Optimization

- Organization will reap the complete benefit of cloud adoption only when it is optimized to ensure maximum productivity.
- It is no longer sufficient to simply deploy and monitor your cloud; we need to tune your cloud to make complete use of it.
- A better optimized cloud will result in better productivity, security and compliance
- We extensively audit your environment and help you optimize your work loads to a cost-efficient environment.

Case Study

A large Drug Wholesaler in the US that has around ten thousand dealers and stores under them.

They were major players in the Medical Drug industry in the US, with complex IT solutions backing them to manage orders

They were planning to restructure their application from a monolithic application to a Microservice-based application.

They were already running their application on Azure Infrastructure as a Service and looking to move for managed services in Azure.

The Challenge

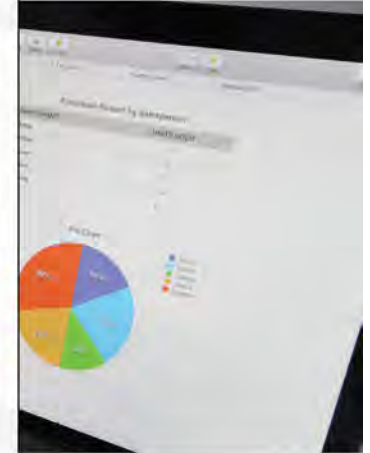

They were hosting their application on Virtual Machines in Azure in a traditional architecture at the time.

With the given scope they were already engaged in application transformation and looking for an Cloud transformation partner.

Solution

We at Mobify hClearScale encouraged them to explore serverless architecture and container services in the Azure, including Azure ACR, Azure Kubernetes Service, Azure DevOps and Managed database.

We helped them throughout their transformation by Architecting, Deploying and Monitoring the solution over a period of time and ensured we followed the standards as per Azure.

Managed Services

- Our managed services include DB and Infra can help you concentrate more on business and application development than looking into infrastructure needs.
- With extensive backup and DR strategy, we ensure your services are up all the time and data remains safe.
- Our expertise and tools back up any data anywhere and recover to any platform.
- Our monitoring & management service not only raise the alerts, but also start working to remediate problems. We perform Root Cause Analysis (RCA) of the problem to prevent it from recurring.

Case Study

The organization is a small growing web development company currently employing 20 people and is trying to hire additional Cloud experts for their infrastructure needs.

The Challenge

They were getting high projects during a certain period of time, and sometimes the project flow is low.

Due to data security and high communication requirements, they needed cloud experts working with them on their premises.

Traditional methods of recruiting, through the schools and newspaper ads, are no longer working for them.

They are also experiencing high turnover people are leaving just as the company finishes training them.

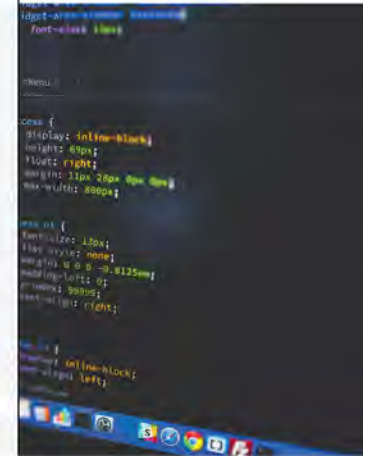

Solution

Our Mobify team stepped into this situation and helped them with our expert on-demand service.

We provided our experts for a few months to scale immediately and flexibly trim the team whenever needed.

Our experts helped them with the smooth progress of work on time.

As our workforce is already trained and skilled, it further reduced their operational cost.

Case Study

This is a food chain company with systems running in Azure Cloud.

Their application provides food ordering and tracking facility.

The Challenge

Recently they have faced a security challenge in their environment and decided to audit their systems.

They need someone from outside whose is certified in Azure to audit their systems.

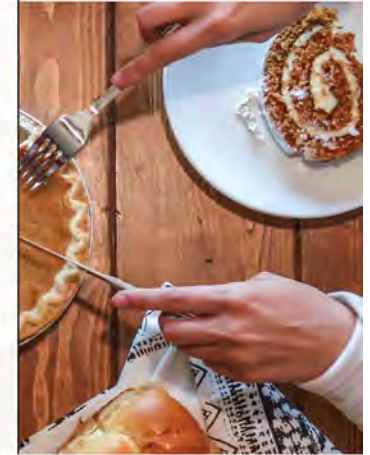

They don't know about the hidden costs in cloud.

Solution

We at Mobify, helped them by conducting a through audit on their systems with security standards and provided security recommendations.

Also we optimized their resources and helped them to find out the hidden costs in Cloud.

We reduced them a sustainable amount of their spending in the cloud by fixing under-utilized resources and optimizing the existing environment.
